

What better way to start the day than a short walk to the 7 eleven.

Anyone for noodles?

The powers of the humble potato chip!

and something to wash them down..

or something from one of the 5 million vending machines...

