

Not quite as crazy as it sounds, though a bit more to avoid than the Farm Cove walkway - Police Cars, Police Officers (on traffic duty), Buses, Taxis, People yelling at taxis, Tourists, Other Cyclists, Pedestrians, Cars & Garbage Cans.

Had a great cycle back uptown to 45th (believe or not it is actually uphill) from the Staten Island Ferry Terminal. A good detour over the Brooklyn Bridge then back up through Chinatown, taking 1st Avenue up past the UN building.
